Mark started his film career in 1997 with Dolby Laboratories and as Senior Consultant, provided technical and creative services to the International Motion Picture Industry, helping many first time productions and independent filmmakers through post production, working on over 600 films in over 100 film studios, cinemas and film laboratories worldwide. Mark has worked with all the major studios including Disney/Warner Bros; toured Scandinavia with Baz Lurhmann; provided technical support at the Cannes Film Festival; completed the first Dolby Digital mix in Czech Republic and Egypt; provided consultancy services for new film studios in Thailand/Denmark and have completed work for George Lucas, Tim Burton and Ken Loach.

In 2009, Mark started Dreambase Studios Limited, a production and post-production facility specialising in content for film, TV and digital media. In 2011 he directed and produced the charity music single, Wootton Bassett Rocks featuring over 1,000 people from Royal Wootton Bassett in a 'single-shot' music video, raising money for Military Charities. He continues to provide International Sound Consultancy services and is a full member of the Association of Motion Picture Sound A.M.P.S. Mark is currently working on a slate of 5 British horror films and is co-founder of Bad Blood Films.
