

Alejandro Blazquez de Nicolas lead creative producer / director

Profile

Passionate creative director / producer / cinematographer, with over +15 years of experience creating, managing and developing ideas, from concept to publishing, for Online, Film, Television and Advertising campaigns, reaching the goals and objectives of our clients ranging from mayor brands & public intitutions to social causes and non profit organizations. Deeply committed to maintaining high quality standards in all stages of project development, building long lasting human relationships and achieving total client satisfaction.

Employment History

Lead Producer / Creative Director at Celuloide Films, Mexico City, Mexico

December 2005 — Present

Managing and leading this company has being the most satisfying experience in my life. I have being able to create from scratch feature film projects that have traveled around the world with success. Format created & developed prime time TV shows for Mexico's Cultural TV Station. We have being recognized as Nike's world wide best practice production service provider as we were the first company to ever stream a running event online in 2008. We have worked in documental projects for infrastructure, ONG's and Entertainment industries.

Visual narrative has always being our key focus to eficiently communicate what we want.

Education

Profesional Studies, New York University, New York City

September 2001 — May 2003

Film production year program were I learned to connect all my previous knowledge in production. I also attended the Advanced Cinematography program under Mark Raker's tuition. I am the only person in my class who has being able to achieve the goal of making and producing feature films.

bachelor degree in actuarial science, Universidad Anahuac, Mexico City, Mexico

September 1998 — May 2001

During my last high school year I won the first "Andrei Nicolai Kolmogorov" math contest and earned a scholarship for an exact science degree at the Anahuac University. I choose Actuarial Science for its unique approach on math and financial risk management, this career formation has being a great tool for project development and to identify business oportunities.

Details

+525591990206

alejandro@celuloidefilms.com

Links

Webpage

Full online reel

Skills

Business Development

Creative Thinking

Film Production

Digital Communications & Marketing

Agile Project Management

Cinematography

Advertising

Communication Skills

Client Relations